THREE THINGS THAT STAND OUT

- A Pisces Ascendant with its ruler in the 9th house. Jupiter, the planet that guides your whole chart, sits in the house of learning, teachers and meaning. Life tends to improve when it is guided by a bigger purpose.
- Three planets in the 12th house. The Sun, Mercury and Saturn gather in Aquarius in the house of solitude, distant places and work done behind the scenes. Quiet, focused work suits Aarav better than the spotlight.
- The Moon at home in Cancer, in the 5th house. Feelings run deep and creativity is strong. The Moon shares this house with Mars, which adds drive and quick reactions.

How to use this report. Astrology describes tendencies and timing, not fixed outcomes. Read it as a mirror: keep what rings true, question what doesn't, and bring your own judgement to every decision.

WHERE THE PLANETS WERE

This is the raw data every interpretation in this report comes from. The positions use the sidereal zodiac with the Lahiri ayanamsa, the standard in Indian astrology. At your birth the ayanamsa was 23°47'.

This is a sample report for a fictional person, Aarav, so you can see exactly what a Full Clarity Report looks like. Your own report is written only from your own birth details.

WHO YOU ARE

Gentle on the surface, steady underneath, and guided by a sense of purpose.

Aarav was born with Pisces rising, the last sign of the zodiac. Astrologers traditionally read a Pisces Ascendant as sensitive, imaginative and kind, someone who picks up the mood of a room before anyone speaks. People often find him easy to talk to.

His Ascendant falls in Uttara Bhadrapada, a birth star known for depth and staying power. It adds a calm, patient layer to the Pisces softness: he tends to think before he acts, and he can carry responsibility quietly for a long time.

The ruler of his chart is Jupiter, and it sits in the 9th house in Scorpio. This is one of the most encouraging placements for the chart's ruler. It points to a life shaped by learning, good teachers and a search for meaning. Jupiter also rules his 10th house, so his sense of purpose and his work are closely tied.

WHAT THIS CAN LOOK LIKE

- A strong inner compass, even when he seems easy-going
- Doing best when the work feels meaningful, not just paid
- A need for quiet time to recharge

In short: a kind, intuitive person whose life works best when it follows a purpose he believes in.

YOUR INNER WORLD

Feelings run deep, memory is long, and home matters a great deal.

The Moon describes the mind and emotions. In Aarav's chart it sits in Cancer, its own sign, where it is traditionally considered strong. He feels things fully and remembers how people made him feel. Family, home and a few close bonds give him his sense of safety.

The Moon sits in his 5th house, the house of creativity, study and children. Ideas come to him through feeling rather than cold logic, and creative or teaching work can be very satisfying.

Mars sits right beside the Moon. This pairing, called Chandra-Mangala yoga, adds energy and courage to his emotions. It can also make reactions quick: he may feel hurt or annoyed fast, and cool down just as fast.

HELPFUL HABITS

- Pausing before replying when emotions run high
- Turning strong feelings into creative work or exercise
- Keeping a small circle of people he trusts

In short: an emotionally rich mind with real creative power; a short pause before reacting makes it even stronger.

YOUR BIRTH STAR

Ashlesha adds focus, insight and a talent for reading people.

Aarav's birth star, or Janma Nakshatra, is Ashlesha, the ninth of the 27 nakshatras. It is the star the Moon was passing through at the moment of his birth, and Indian astrology gives it as much weight as the Moon sign itself.

Ashlesha's symbol is a coiled serpent. Traditionally this stands for hidden energy and sharp perception rather than anything to fear. People with this birth star are often quick to sense what others are not saying. They can be excellent at research, strategy, healing and any work that needs insight.

The star is ruled by Mercury, the planet of thinking and communication. This gives Aarav a mind that likes to analyse, and in his chart Mercury sits in the 12th house, so much of that thinking happens quietly, in the background.

He was born in the second pada, or quarter, of Ashlesha. This pada is traditionally linked with practical, organised thinking, which helps balance the deep feelings of the Cancer Moon.

What it adds: sharp insight and focus. Used well, it makes him a trusted adviser; the growth point is to share his thoughts openly instead of keeping them guarded.

WORK AND CAREER

Meaningful, skilled work, often done behind the scenes, suits Aarav best.

Aarav's 10th house, the house of career, is Sagittarius, ruled by Jupiter. Jupiter is also the ruler of his whole chart and sits in the 9th house of learning. Astrologers read this as a career that grows through knowledge: teaching, advising, research, law, finance, health or any field where expertise is respected.

Three planets sit in his 12th house: the Sun, Mercury and Saturn. The 12th house is linked with work done away from the public eye, large institutions, hospitals, research, technology and foreign connections. Many people with this pattern do their best work in focused, independent roles, or with companies and clients abroad.

Saturn is in its own sign here, Aquarius, which adds discipline and staying power. Progress may feel slow at first, but it tends to be solid.

FIELDS THAT SUIT THIS CHART

- Advisory, teaching or research roles
- Technology or analysis work, including remote or international work
- Healthcare, wellbeing or social-impact organisations

In short: expertise is his engine. Building deep skill in one field will serve him better than chasing quick visibility.

RELATIONSHIPS

A thoughtful partner who needs real conversation and emotional safety.

Aarav's 7th house, the house of marriage and partnership, is Virgo, ruled by Mercury. This points to a partner who is intelligent, practical and easy to talk to. For Aarav, a relationship works best when there is good communication and a sense of being understood.

Mercury sits in his 12th house, which can mean that he meets important people through travel, work abroad, online spaces or quiet settings rather than loud social circles. It can also mean he keeps some of his feelings private until trust is built.

Venus, the natural planet of love, sits in his 11th house in Capricorn. This is a steady placement: love often grows out of friendship, and he values loyalty and commitment more than drama.

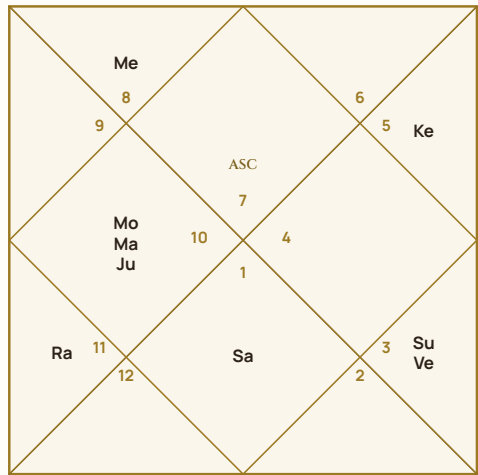

His Cancer Moon in the 5th house adds warmth and romance. He cares deeply once he commits, and he needs a partner who respects his need for some quiet time.

His Navamsa (D9), the deeper chart for marriage, adds that commitment grows stronger with time (see page 9).

In short: friendship first, then commitment. Open, honest conversation is the key that keeps his relationships strong.

YOUR NAVAMSA CHART

The D9 chart shows inner strength and the deeper story of marriage.

Navamsa (D9). Its Ascendant is Libra (Tula).

PLANET	BIRTH CHART	NAVAMSA	D9 HOUSE	STRENGTH
Sun	Aquarius	Gemini	9
Moon	Cancer	Capricorn	4
Mars	Cancer	Capricorn	4	Exalted
Mercury	Aquarius	Scorpio	2
Jupiter	Scorpio	Capricorn	4	Debilitated
Venus	Capricorn	Gemini	9
Saturn	Aquarius	Aries	7	Debilitated
Rahu	Libra	Aquarius	5
Ketu	Aries	Leo	11

The Navamsa, or D9, divides each sign into nine parts. Astrologers use it as a second, deeper chart: it shows how strong each planet really is, and it is the main chart for marriage and partnership.

INNER STRENGTH

Aarav's D9 Ascendant is Libra, ruled by Venus, and Venus sits in the D9 9th house of learning and good fortune. Beneath his Pisces softness is a fair, balanced nature that values harmony. Mars, weak in the birth chart, is exalted in Capricorn here: traditionally his drive and courage grow stronger and steadier with age. Jupiter is weaker in the D9, a reminder to turn his wisdom into steady action rather than only ideas.

MARRIAGE AND PARTNERSHIP

The D9 7th house is Aries, ruled by that strong, exalted Mars, which points to an active, capable partner. Saturn sits in this 7th house: astrologers read it as a relationship that deepens with time and commitment, sometimes after a patient wait. Venus in the D9 9th house adds shared values and learning together.

In short: the D9 shows a drive that matures well and a partnership built on patience, shared values and commitment.

MONEY AND RESOURCES

Steady gains through skill and good networks, with care needed on spending.

Aarav's 2nd house of savings is Aries, ruled by Mars, and his 11th house of gains is Capricorn, ruled by Saturn. Together they describe an earning style based on effort and patience rather than luck.

Venus sits in the 11th house, which is traditionally a pleasant placement for income: gains often come through friends, networks, creative work or well-paid professional services.

The ruler of his 2nd house, Mars, sits with the Moon in the 5th house. This creates a Dhana yoga, a classic combination linked with earning through intelligence, creativity or investment knowledge. Because Mars is retrograde and in Cancer, it works best with a calm, planned approach rather than impulsive decisions.

The 12th house holds three planets, and the 12th is also the house of expenses. Spending can rise around travel, family, learning or giving. A simple budget helps a lot.

In short: good earning potential through skill and people; the main habit to build is planned saving.

YOGAS IN YOUR CHART

A yoga is a combination of planets that classical texts single out. They describe potential, not guarantees: a yoga tends to show most clearly during the periods of the planets that form it.

YOGA	IN YOUR CHART	WHAT TRADITION ASSOCIATES
Budhaditya yoga	The Sun and Mercury sit together in Aquarius.	Traditionally linked with intelligence and clear expression.
Chandra-Mangala yoga	The Moon and Mars sit together in Cancer.	Traditionally linked with enterprise and the drive to earn.
Dhana yoga	Mars (ruler of your 2nd) and Moon (ruler of your 5th) sit together in Cancer.	Traditionally linked with the potential to build wealth through the houses involved.
Viparita Raja yoga	Sun, ruler of your 6th house, sits in your 12th.	Traditionally linked with strength that comes out of difficulty.
Viparita Raja yoga	Saturn, ruler of your 12th house, sits in your 12th.	Traditionally linked with strength that comes out of difficulty.

Reading these together: Aarav's chart carries several encouraging combinations. Budhaditya yoga links the Sun and Mercury, supporting clear thinking. Chandra-Mangala and Dhana yoga connect emotion, drive and earning. The two Viparita Raja yogas are often read as the ability to turn setbacks into progress. These describe potential, not promises: they work best with steady effort and good choices.

YOUR TIMELINE

Vedic astrology divides life into planetary periods, called dashas, calculated from the Moon's exact position at birth. You are in the Venus period, which runs from 27 Jul 2012 to 27 Jul 2032. Aarav is in the Mahadasha of Venus until July 2032. Venus rules his 3rd and 8th houses and sits in the 11th house of gains, so this chapter traditionally highlights effort, networks, research and steady income growth.

Inside each main period are sub-periods. Each one brings forward the themes of its planet: the houses it rules and the house it sits in.

SUB-PERIOD	DATES	ITS PLANET IN YOUR CHART
Venus · Jupiter	Sep 2022 – May 2025	Rules your 1st and 10th (self, confidence, direction; career, reputation); sits in your 9th (fortune, higher learning, mentors).
Venus · Saturn	May 2025 – Jul 2028	Rules your 11th and 12th (gains, networks, income; expenses, rest, distant places); sits in your 12th (expenses, rest, distant places). You are here.
Venus · Mercury	Jul 2028 – May 2031	Rules your 4th and 7th (home, inner peace, property; partnership, marriage, business partners); sits in your 12th (expenses, rest, distant places).
Venus · Ketu	May 2031 – Jul 2032	Sits in your 2nd house (earnings, family, speech).
Sun · Sun	Jul 2032 – Nov 2032	Rules your 6th (work routines, competition, service); sits in your 12th (expenses, rest, distant places).
Sun · Moon	Nov 2032 – May 2033	Rules your 5th (creativity, studies, romance); sits in your 5th (creativity, studies, romance).
Sun · Mars	May 2033 – Sep 2033	Rules your 2nd and 9th (earnings, family, speech; fortune, higher learning, mentors); sits in your 5th (creativity, studies, romance).
Sun · Rahu	Sep 2033 – Aug 2034	Sits in your 8th house (change, research, shared resources).

Reading the timeline: the current sub-period, Venus–Saturn (until July 2028), is a time to build patiently: steady work, savings and long-term plans. Saturn rules his 11th and 12th houses, so gains come through discipline and sometimes through work far from home. From July 2028, Venus–Mercury brings more conversation, partnership and learning into focus.

THE YEAR AHEAD

Transits are where the planets are moving now, read against your birth chart. The three slow movers (Jupiter, Saturn and Rahu) shape the year's backdrop. One reassurance: you are not in Sade Sati during this period.

The shape of your year: until 31 October 2026, Jupiter in his 5th house supports creativity and study. From November to January, Jupiter moves to the 6th house: a good stretch for health routines and getting work in order. Saturn in Pisces, on his Ascendant until June 2027, asks for patience and steady effort on personal goals. From December, Rahu in his 11th house brings new contacts and income ideas; choose them carefully and avoid shortcuts. Late 2027 brings Jupiter to his 7th house, a supportive time for partnerships.

FIVE REFLECTIONS FOR THIS CHAPTER

Not remedies, and nothing to buy. Just five things your chart suggests are worth your attention.

1 · PROTECT YOUR QUIET TIME

With three planets in the 12th house, your best ideas arrive in calm moments. Keep one quiet hour each day for thinking, reading or planning.

2 · PAUSE BEFORE YOU REACT

The Moon–Mars pairing gives you courage and quick feelings. A ten-second pause before replying in tense moments will save a lot of energy.

3 · GROW ONE DEEP SKILL

Jupiter in the 9th rewards real expertise. Choose one skill to master over the next year and give it regular time.

4 · PLAN YOUR SPENDING

The 12th house is also the house of expenses. A simple monthly budget and an automatic saving habit will support the gains your 11th house promises.

5 · SAY WHAT YOU THINK

Ashlesha sees a lot but often keeps it inside. Sharing your thoughts openly with the people close to you will strengthen both work and relationships.
